Delong X6000 is currently available in red and blue, but in terms of technology, the white one is more prominent, and the electronic rearview mirror, which is different from other models, makes this white Delong X6000 look more technological. It is foreseeable that the electronic rearview mirror will become the mainstream configuration in the future, because the advantages brought by the electronic rearview mirror are obvious. In addition to the most basic function of reducing the wind resistance coefficient, it also has many advantages such as wider angle and anti-fouling.
