Product Description of Shacman Dump Truck:

As a military enterprise, Shaanxi Automobile has a strict control process in vehicle development. With the development purpose of creating maximum value for customers and ensuring product reliability, it has determined the product weight reduction plan. The new M3000 is equipped with Weichai WP7.300 engine, Hande MAN technology lightweight bridge, lightweight drive shaft, aluminum alloy air cylinder and fuel tank application, and the chassis weighs only 9.24 tons.

Shaanxi Automobile's lightweight models have unique advantages in the industry: the lowest center of gravity in the industry, four-point hydraulic suspension + lateral damping device, telescopic shaft shifting, and standard inter-wheel differential and inter-axle differential of the drive axle.

The height of the accessories from the ground is the best in the industry: higher ground clearance, better passability under complex road conditions. By matching the unique advantages of the industry, the vehicle can drive more steadily, driving on curves is safer, and the maintenance cost of users is reduced at the same time.

Product Application of Shacman Dump Truck :

8x4 Mining Dump Truck is specially designed for transportation in mines and other projects, and can be used at temperatures of 50°C and -40°C without any problems. Our product is made of high-quality materials, strong and durable, crossing most types of terrain will not cause problems, and can meet most transportation needs.
