Product Description of Fire Truck:

Fire trucks are motor vehicles specially used for fire fighting and rescue, and are used to respond to various fires and emergency situations. Fire trucks are usually equipped with equipment such as water tanks, pumps, sprinklers, fire extinguishing equipment and rescue tools to extinguish fires, rescue trapped people and perform other emergency tasks. Fire trucks can also carry medical equipment and first aid supplies to provide emergency medical assistance. Fire trucks are usually used by professional fire brigades or emergency agencies, and play an important role in emergency situations such as fires, traffic accidents, natural disasters, etc.

Powerful, focused water stream, extensive coverage for maximum protection.

The firefighting apparatus allows for flexible and convenient maneuverability, with a gun body capable of horizontal and vertical rotation.

Fire monitor can spray in direct current and spray mode.

The main specifications and performance parameters are in line with the requirements of the People's Republic of China standard GB19156-2003 <General Technical Requirements for Fire Monitors>

Excellent performance, high efficiency, compact structure, beautiful appearance, simple operation and convenient maintenance.

Product Application of Fire Truck :

Cooling down. Sprinkling water on the road surface in hot weather can help lower the temperature and protect the road surface, because if the temperature is too high, the road surface will crack.

Dust removal. The road surface is dusty, and sprinkling water can moisten the dust, effectively preventing the dust from flying up, thereby reducing air pollution.

Greening and gardening, watering roadside flowers and trees, or washing dust off trees. Used as a fire truck in an emergency.
