In addition to the functions of a general compartment, the compartment of a refrigerated and insulated vehicle also has the functions of heat insulation and heat preservation. The top cover of the convertible compartment can be used for vertical lifting to change the volume of the compartment to meet the loading and unloading requirements of different goods; it is convenient for loading and unloading of goods and improves loading and unloading efficiency.

Diversified transportation Since the side plate part of the box trailer adopts a rectangular tube structure, it has high strength and rigidity, which can effectively prevent the impact of goods. When the goods do not exceed the height of the side plate, the vehicle can also be used as an ordinary truck, realizing the diversification of transported goods, beautiful appearance, novel shape, smooth appearance, and advertisements can be set on the side of the box.
