Product Description

Product Description of Shacman Tractor Truck:

The fuel consumption of Delong X6000 6X4 4X2 tractor reaches an astonishing 25.85L per 100 kilometers (under standard load plain road conditions). The reason for such a low fuel consumption level is due to Shaanxi Automobile's unique five exclusive technologies, including big data of segmented working conditions, efficient powertrain, predictive power control, intelligent thermal management and external flow field optimization, which have achieved the industry's ultra-low fuel consumption benchmark.

Aiming at 31 segmented market conditions such as plains, hills and mountains, the Delong X6000 achieves a 99% match of road condition characteristics, and accurately calibrates the powertrain, transmission system.

The spacious cabin features comfortable seating and user-friendly controls, enhancing operator comfort during long hours of work.

Product Application of Shacman Tractor Truck :

The X6000 series features some of the industries' lowest fuel consumption figures which in turn brings maximum value to customers. The vehicle is also equipped with the latest technologies within the entire automotive industry.
